LASKER DELAYS REVEALS

Law and Successful Evasion of Trial

A. I. Lasker Auto Finance Corporation, in the indictment against Dist.-Atty. Keyes and others on Wednesday brought to light the story of a running bout which Lasker has been having with the law since 1927.

In all, three indictments were returned against Lasker and in each instance the case against him was Force Needed

HISTORY OF CASE
The history of the ineffectual efforts to bring Lasker to trial began on April 28, last, when he was charged with two counts of grand theft in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist. Atty. Richard J. Linn. He was signed by members of Lasker's firm. It charged him with issuing a false financial statement for his firm on April 28, 1938.

The officer, A. J. Brown, said that Lasker, a former declarator, was taken to Lasker home at 10 p. m. He told the broker "he wouldn't be back."
Lasker was not until after 3:30 a. m. yesterday the

In addition to these charges, the District Attorney was reported on the same date to be investigating the possibility of charges under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the Securities Act of 1933. At the time the complaint was made

He was on his way to Honolulu. He arrived on the morning of the day, and was taken to a telegraphic restaurant, waived extradition and returned to this country at once on the steamship Malolo.

AGAIN INDICTED

While he was on his way back, the grand jury returned an indictment against him, charging him with perjury, accusing him of violation of the Corporate Securities Act, making false entries in corporation books, and grand theft. He arrived on the April 14 at San Francisco, and was taken to the Federal House, which was two days after the returning of the indictment. On April 17 his bail was reduced from $25,000 to $10,000 on motion of Dep. Dist.

He was arraigned on April 30 but was not required to make his plea until ten days later because the court was required first to rule on a demurrer to the indictment by his counsel. Trial was finally set for May 25, but two postponements were obtained, the last beto June 21, when the case was dismissed.

Meanwhile, however, the grand jury had voted two new indictments against him on June 18.

The first contained twelve charges of violation of the Securities Exchange Act and accused Lester of seven counts of issuing stock for other considerations than cash, four counts of making false statements to the Corporation, Commissioner and one count of illegally transferring stock of the Lester Finance Corporation to the A. On June 27, Leaker's attorneys filed a demurrer, which, however, was quickly overruled. They also made a motion to set aside the indictment, but this was also denied by Judge Edmonds. Leaker was not required to make his plea, however, until two days later. Meanwhile the court had granted a motion to amend the indictment and on June 11 his attorney filed a demurrer to the indictment as amended, which was overruled, and a motion to set aside the indictment as amended, which was denied. Thereupon Leaker pleaded not guilty to all units and trial was set for July 20. The history of the case is one of postponements. From July 25 it is postponed to July 29, then to August 20, and finally to November 10. On October 5, however, the two indictments were dismissed.

Davis Reveals How He Ousted Getzoffs From His Suite of Offices

FORMER AIDE TELLS BREAK WITH KEYES OVER PAIR

'Kicked' Tailor, Son Out Because of Undesirable Conferences, Former Deputy States

Harold L. Davis, former chief deputy District Attorney under Keyes and prosecutor of the Julian case, "kicked" the Getzoffs out of his office two weeks ago and broke a long-standing business association with Keyes over the latter's association with the tailor and his son, Davis revealed yesterday.

Davis had contemplated occupying Room No. 410 in my suite. "As I have responsibilities of my own that should not become in any way involved with your business, I feel that you will understand my motive in asking that you take this step."

Very truly yours,
[Signed]

EXPLAINS ATTITUDE
"I have no enmity against Keyes in this matter," said Davis in explaining the motive of his action with the Getzoffs, "but I feel that a full explanation of how the Getzoffs came to occupy one of my offices for some time should be made. I was one of the prosecutors in the Julian case and the circumstances might be misinterpreted."

Davis declared he had known the Getzoffs for some time prior to the Julian case, but asserted he had never heard them mentioned with regard to the case, and never knew of them ever having any conference with Keyes.

"I find it hard to believe all that various witnesses have testified before the grand jury," he said. "The public must remember that fifty or sixty of the best-known business men were indicted in the Julian case, and with all that wealth involved rumors of bribes were almost inevitable."

The former chief deputy District Attorney was loath to discuss any argument that ensued between him and Keyes over the Getzoffs' occupation of the office, but admitted that after they left Keyes changed his plans about occupying the office himself.

WEBB REFUSES TO COMMENT

Attorney-General Waits On Formal Papers Before Deciding Action

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1. (Exclusive)—What action will be taken by the Attorney-General in the prosecution of Dist.-Atty. Keyes of Los Angeles county on charges of willful and corrupt misconduct in office was unknown here tonight. Atty.-Gen. Webb withheld comment until he has received formal notice of last night's accusation by the Los Angeles county grand jury.

Ordinarily disqualification of a District Attorney for any reason, automatically brings intervention from the Attorney-General's office for purposes of investigation and prosecution, but it is believed Webb is maintaining silence until he hears from Attorney Hart, named by Presiding Judge Edmonds as special prosecutor.

OFFICE OF PROSECUTOR DISRUPTED

State of Chaos Develops With Bribery Indictment; Keyes Not at Desk

The District Attorney's office was in a state of chaos yesterday as various employees and department heads awoke to the realization that the grand jury had indicted their chief, Dist.-Atty. Keyes, and others on charges of corruption.

Although the usual number of citizens seeking information or legal assistance were granted interviews in regular order, the undercurrent of feeling and speculation was evident among the employees not actively engaged gathered about the hallways in small groups.

Provided only with meager details of the charges due to the secrecy of the indictment, there groups soon developed a chain of rumors and unfounded reports and spread from room to room growing as they were retold.

Dist.-Atty. Keyes was absent from his office all day. At first he announced that he would be in his office at 4 p.m. but when notified that a copy of the accusation filed against him by the grand jury would not be prepared until today he failed to appear.

In the absence of Keyes, Forrest Murray, chief deputy, became the active head of the office with Wayne Jordan as his chief aide.

Briton Weds Scion of Grant

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Princess Ida Cantacuzene, great-granddaughter of Gen. U. S. Grant, was married today to John Hanbury Williams at a wedding ceremony which was attended by President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The wedding took place at St. John's Episcopal Church. The Princess is the daughter of Prince Cantacuzene, who married Miss Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Maj.-Gen. Frederick Dent Grant. The mother took refuge in America after the upheaval in Russia at the time of the establishment of the soviet government.

Mr. Williams is a son of Gen. Sir John Hanbury Williams, marshal of the Diplomatic Corps at the Court of St. James. The couple will reside in London.

CANADIAN FLYER KILLED

CAMP BORDEN (Ont.) Nov. 1. (AP)—Flying Officer A. E. Reynolds was killed today when his plane crashed. A passenger believed to be Maj. Currie of Ottawa, was seriously injured.

Prosecutor Stands Before Bar of Justice

Accuser Becomes Accused

DIARY NAMES RIEMER AS AGENT OF KEYES

The diary of Milton Pike, key witness in the grand jury's action in returning indictments against Dist.-Atty. Keyes and eight others, asserts that Charles Riemer, veteran investigator of the District-Attorney's office who is among those indicted, was Keyes' chief agent in the asserted negotiations which took place in the Getzoff tailor shop.

Through the pages of the diary kept by the salesman in the Getzoff tailor shop, where the accusation against Keyes charges the "fixing" was agreed upon and the "pay-off" made, Riemer is mentioned almost daily in visits from May 24, last, to July 28.

The Pike document asserts Riemer delivered liquor to the shop; that he was "in and out" all the time and that he kept himself constantly informed on the asserted conferences in order "to report to his master, Keyes." In another place he is referred to as "Keyes' watchdog."

NAMED AS FIXER

It was Riemer, according to the diary, who, on July 2 told Joseph Sherman, one of the principal witnesses in the case, "that Ben (Getzoff) made more than $100,000 as one of the fixers in the Julian case."

A brief resume of Riemer's part in the picture taken from the diary indicates that he was a participant in one of the first conferences Pike noted. That conference, on May 24, was attended by Keyes, Ed Rosenberg, Riemer and Getzoff, the document says.

On May 28, says Pike, Riemer was busy, gathering information from the newspapers on the action brought in Federal court against Bennett. On May 29, he declares, Riemer attended a hilarious party in the little tailor shop in celebration of the acquittal in the Superior Court cases, where, the diary says, congratulations were boisterous and plenty of drinks were available. On June 8, Pike says: "I carried a carton of booze out of Riemer's car into the office."

Again, the entry of June 14 says: "12:06, Riemer came and I carried a carton of booze from his car into the store."

"EYES AND EARS OPEN"

On June 21, the document says: "Riemer in most all afternoon. Went out a little while in the afternoon and returned at 8:30 p.m. and took Ben into the office in a business-like manner, indicating he had an important message for him."

Riemer clowns around nine-tenths of the time, or is playing the fox and wants to give everyone that impression, but he always has his ears and eyes open."

A previous entry says: "Riemer in and out all day. Nothing goes

Charles Riemer

Keyes and Getzoff were preparing to go on a yachting trip for two days with six or eight men in the party. "Riemer among them. They put twelve quarts of booze in Keyes' car to take along. They waited around ten or fifteen minutes for Lasker to arrive."

AIDED FREDERICKS

Riemer first became associated with the District Attorney's office about ten years ago when he was employed as an investigator for a private detective agency. On several occasions he was employed to make special investigations for John Fredericks, at that time District Attorney.

This association continued through the Fredericks administration and became stronger when for a cleaner campaign. Mr. Raskob now has fully revealed to the country that his first appeal for a clean campaign was a mere mask to hide his own mud guns.

"We have been able to anticipate most of the Democratic mud by realizing that Raskob always uses reverse English. Whenever he has accused Republicans of a trick, it has become a forewarning that the Democrats were about to undertake or were already undertaking that particular trick. In no instance has this system been so conspicuously employed as in the action of the Democratic chairman in deliberately dragging in the issue of religious intolerance.

"Under the mockery of denouncing it, they have introduced it until it now is apparent to all thinking people that this shameful subterfuge has been artfully employed to substitute passion and prejudice for a serious consideration of those issues which Mr. Hoover has been continuously and logically discussing.

"All efforts to link the Republican party with the religious issue having failed because of the refusal of the Republican party to countenance

RASKOB ACCUSED OF FAKE

National W.C.T.U. Brands Statement Attributed to
One of Its Members as Fictitious

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (AP)—A letter to John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, protesting against "the untrue statement utilized by you in publicity from your Washington office under date of October 19" has been sent by the National W.C.T.U., denying that a woman quoted in the Democratic publicity is a member of the temperance organization.

The publicity, according to the W.C.T.U., quoted a Mrs. Amanda Gilchrist of Stanberry, Mo., as a W.C.T.U. worker assailing prohibition and pledging support to Gov. Smith although her politics always had been Republican. "This would be important if it were not for the fact that there is no such person as Mrs. Amanda Gilchrist; no such member of the W.C.T.U.; and as far as we can learn no such resident of Stanberry, Mo."

"The Missouri W.C.T.U. is responsible for the statement that there is no such member, and the postmaster at Stanberry has made an affidavit that he can find no such person," the W.C.T.U. wrote.

"The members of the W.C.T.U. are solidly opposed to Gov. Smith, despite the attempts of the wet leadership of the Democratic party to force the Democratic women of the organization into line. Political leaders working for Smith during the appeal to bigotry, the committee of Raskob has deliberately descended to the Tammany trick of manufacturing evidence for their own use. This is what they did in referring to the recent pretended meeting in New Jersey between Klan leaders and Republican leaders, a canard which has been easily traced to the Democratic headquarters in Philadelphia.

"ANOTHER TRICK"
"Another trick of similar character has been developed in Wichita, Kan., where a woman employed at Democratic headquarters has attempted to plant another bogus case which the chairman of the Republican committee there conclusively exposed. Lamont Rowlands of Jackson, Miss., an anti-Smith Democrat, and not Republican, as Raskob describes him, mentioned by Raskob in his outburst this morning, telegraphs that his office has sent out no such literature as described and that R. X. Williams, the Oxford (Miss.) man said to have made an affidavit that he received such literature in Howard's envelope, denies that he has made such an affidavit and states that the material he received came in an envelope without return card from Meriden, Miss. It is worthy of note that all the affidavits printed by Raskob, whether from Kansas, Mississippi or Tennessee, were all made on the same day, and the declaration Mr. Williams makes that he did not see such an affidavit arouses the suspicion that the whole case is a 'frame-up'.

"While secretly encouraging these plots to cast the religious issue in the Republican camp, Raskob has uttered no word of condemnation of the use of religious bigotry in his own camp. From the beginning Raskob's obvious effort has been to make the widest use of bigotry in his own campaign while denouncing its pretended presence in the Republican campaign. Whereas the Republican campaign managers have been rebuking every outbreak of religious bigotry, Raskob has openly encouraged attacks upon Mr. Hoover's religion.

"An attack of the most vicious character was launched by the Democratic regional committee at St. Louis upon Mr. Hoover's Quaker faith. This Democratic committee circulated thousands of copies of this attack.

"In Pennsylvania a Democratic candidate for Congress issued an anonymous attack upon Mr. Hoover as a Quaker. His denunciation was so extreme and his action so shameless that it fell under the ban of the Postoffice Department and received the attention of the Postmaster-General, who removed the postmaster and other persons connected with the anonymous effort. While it was obvious that this was done under Mr. Raskob's committee, he uttered no word of censure. "There never has been in the history of American politics an outbreak of political bigotry such as has been in evidence under the auspices of the Tammany national committee during the last days of this campaign. Senators Reed, Robinson, Glass, Caraway, Hanchey, Glavin, Darrow and others have been spewing forth personal libel against the Republican candidate for President with shameless abandon, and all this is with the direct encouragement of Chairman Raskob. The vituperative outburst of the Tammany slander-mongers is the most deplorable exhibition that this country ever has witnessed of a bigotry that knows no bounds in decency.

"THOUSANDS SPENT
"Raskob has spent thousands of dollars in the circulation of publications whose sole purpose has been to place the issue of intolerance and race hatred in the passionate-minded of the country. He has had the effrontery to do it continuously and designedly, wearing always a pious face. He has gone so far as to pay out thousands of dollars for a page advertisement presenting so shameless an invitation to religious hatred that 90 per cent of the decent papers to which it has been offered have refused to print it.

"Every old exploded slander exploited by those who have opposed Mr. Hoover for ten years has been revived and reiterated. That a lie has been disproved over and over again has not rendered it unusable for Mr. Raskob's mud guns. In six Presidential campaigns I have never witnessed so concerted and unprincipled an effort to substitute for a decent discussion of issues appeals to mob instincts, to racial prejudices and religious bigotry.

"The country will long remember the mud guns of the Raskob battery—Senators Caraway, Reed, Hanchey, Robinson, Glass, Bruce, Gov. Elihu and their assistants from private life, Dudley Field Malone, Clarence Darrow and others. Some of these men were naturally fitted for the work, but others have had to step down from a position of eminence to meet the Tammany spirit of the campaign. The Tammany campaign in its closing hours has sunk from the

That sort of calumny fronts the common sense of the American people."

AMERICA PERSONIFIED
"In all this work abroad," he said, "Hoover personified the intelligence, resourcefulness and humanity of America. Such ability as Hoover exhibited during the post-war reconstruction of Europe is not to be held lightly at a time like this. The American people are going to need it and need it badly."

"Mr. Hoover is seeking not to aggrandize the government, but the individual;... to make this government the individual's servant, not his master. It is on this view that he is absolutely opposed to the unwarrantable extension of bureaucratic government."

"In his activities he has thrown a welcome light upon departmental aims and practices he believes in the importance of regulation in the public interest. But he desires... methods to establish without governmental action a more efficient production."

Hoover's view of international peace, Mr. Hughes said, is not "simply in the laying down of the arms of nations. International peace must be followed by industrial peace as the essential condition of progress in democracy. His measure of our national prosperity is 'the measure that we may risk through a change in present policies.'"

RELIEF POLICY EXPLAINED
The nominee's farm-relief policy, Mr. Hughes said, proposes assistance by the government, but control of the relief agencies by the farmers themselves. There is no controversy, he said, between Gov. Smith and Hoover on "retention of government ownership of water-power sites owned by the State or the Federal government."

"The test comes," he said, "in operation. If there is any question of importance presented on this subject, it is whether the principle of government ownership and private operation shall be abandoned and the nation and the States shall go into the business of generating, distributing and selling electric power."

Mr. Hughes endorsed also the candidacy of former Ambassador Houghton, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, and Attorney General Clegg, gubernatorial nominee.

"In voting for Herbert Hoover," he said, "we shall do our utmost to promote the prosperity which is the foundation of progress. Republican success on election day is the best insurance policy we can write."

Postal Building Charges Denied

BOSTON, Nov. 1. (P)—John H. Bartlett, first assistant Postmaster-General, declared today that Gov. Smith was in error when he said in his speech at Newark last night that the government owned 100 postoffice sites on which no brick had been laid.

"The truth is," he said, "we have already acted, completing twenty of these postoffices. Right here in Massachusetts we have completed one in Winchester, one in Newburyport and one at Southbridge. In Gov. Smith's own State we have completed one at a cost of $1,000,000 in Truro, one at a cost of $5,000,000 in Syracuse and have others under way. Gov. Smith's party is to be blamed for acquiring the sites in 1915, 1916 and 1918 and neglecting to do anything about them."

MacVeagh Out for Gov. Smith

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (P)—Franklin MacVeagh, Chicago capitalist and Secretary of the Treasury under President Taft, declared in a statement issued today by the Alfred E. Smith Independent League of Illinois that prosperity in the United States does not depend on the party in power.

"Prosperity rests on the resources of the country and enterprises and labor of the people," said Mr. MacVeagh. "So far as a President can help the currents of the nation's prosperity I would rather have the help of Gov. Smith than that of any other man in our public life."

Mrs. Burbank Backs Hoover

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1. (Exclusive)—Accompanied by the statement that "if he were living today Mr. Burbank would be writing this letter of endorsement," Mrs. Luther Burbank, widow of the late plant wizard, informed Republican State headquarters today of her support of Herbert Hoover for President.

Her husband, she explained, "served under Hoover during the World War and as long ago as that predicted that Mr. Hoover would be recognized in time as one of the greatest executives, administrators and statesmen America has produced."

DEMOCRATS ERR AND BID G.O.P.

New York Republicans Send Regrets for Farley of Chairman Rankin

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (P)—A clerical error at Democratic National headquarters was responsible for the letters received by several prominent Republicans inviting them to a conference with Chairman Rankin here, it was revealed today.

Franklin B. Lord, chairman of the statistical bureau of the Republican State Committee, was one of those invited. In Mr. Rankin's morning mail was Mr. Lord's designation, "with thanks."

Other Hoover supporters who got invitations were George Eastman of Rochester, Louis K. Liggett of Boston, and Leonard S. Horner of New Haven.

Roger Babson Declares in Message That Business Will be Hard Hit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (Exclusive)—The election of Gov. Smith would have serious consequences for the business interests of the United States, Roger W. Babson of Wellesley, Mass., business statistician, said in a communication received today by ex-Gov. Allen of Kansas, director of publicity for the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Babson, whose statistical calculations of business trends have won nationwide distinction, said in his message:

"All statistics indicate that the election of Gov. Smith would be followed by depression, unemployment and the failure of those who are hanging on, trusting on Mr. Hoover's election."

Earlier in the campaign Mr. Babson issued a statement endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Hoover as one in which the business men of the nation can place entire confidence.

PEEK PEPPERED BY BROOKHART

Iowa Senator Also Attacks Reed in Illinois

'Purveyor of Falsehoods,' He Calls Farm Leader

Hoover's War Record Held Fair to Growers

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Nov. 1. (P) George N. Peek, chairman of the Smith independent organizations committee, bore the brunt of an attack by Senator Brookhart of Iowa in an address here tonight. Senator Reed of Missouri, whose address in Chicago this week inspired the attack, also was criticized.

Mr. Peek was described as a "purveyor of falsehoods." On him Senator Brookhart laid the blame for Senator Reed's charges that Herbert Hoover during and after the World War held down farm-product prices.

"The only prices Hoover ever tried to hold down," Senator Brookhart said, "were the prices of the speculators and the gamblers, and every farmer and every laboring man in the country knows this position, as does every sensible man unless he gets his information from George N. Peek. That Peek is efficient and highly expert in the line of manufacture and distribution of half-truths is evidenced by the fact that the Democrats have handed him $400,000 for his war."

PEEK OUSTED, HE SAYS
Senator Brookhart said Mr. Peek was discharged as head of an industrial board in the Department of Commerce under President Wilson, and the board was destroyed because of Peek's "vicious policy" in reduction of farm prices.

Mr. Peek later was one of the backers of the McNary-Haugen bill, opposed by Senator Reed.

"In view of this it is astonishing to see Senator Reed in the same political bed with Peek," said Senator Brookhart.

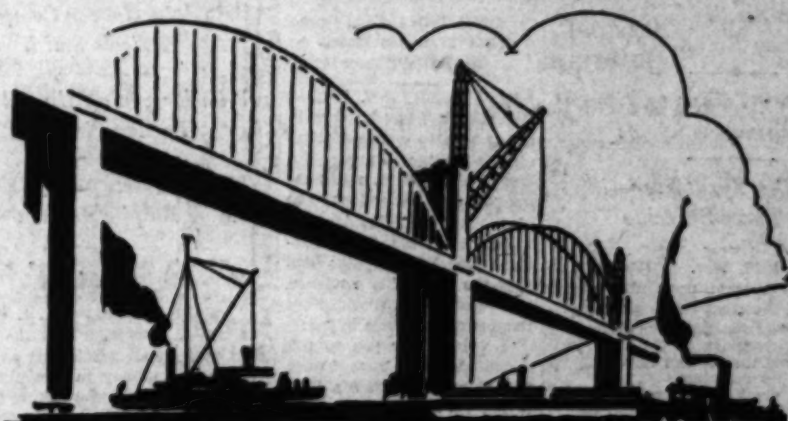

"Senator Reed knows nothing about the price of wheat during the war—that's evident from reading his speech. All he knows is what Peek told him, and Peek neglected to tell him all the important facts."

"There is no doubt whatever of Hoover's position on the price of wheat. He wanted to get a better price for the farmers and he wanted to cut out the profits of the speculators and thus protect the consumers. Peek neglected to tell Senator Reed this important fact and therefore the Senator did not mention it."

"SENATOR FORGOT"
"Senator Reed forgot that the Allied countries formed one buying agency and fixed the price of wheat at $1.80 a bushel at Chicago," said the Senator. "This is the most important fact in reference to price-fixing of wheat, but Peek did not tell Senator Reed and the Senator did not mention it."

"The Senator also forgot that he had a hand in fixing the price of wheat himself and that the Senate, by a unanimous vote, fixed a minimum for 1918 wheat at $2 a bushel, or 20 cents less than President Wilson's board fixed it for Hoover. Of course, the Senator can be pardoned for forgetting this, but Peek cannot because he was hired to cover up the truth."

ECKENER PLANS STRONGER SHIPS

Zeppelin Builder Declares Ocean Unconquered

Stowaway Given Ovation After Craft Lands

Passengers Spend Night at Card Tables

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) Nov. 1. (P)—The Graf Zeppelin rested tonight in its home hangar for the first time in many days while its master, Dr. Hugo Eckener, planned mightier and faster lighter-than-air craft for the day when his dream of trans-Atlantic dirigible passenger air service will have become a reality.

"This ship is finished for me as far as general passenger service is concerned," Dr. Eckener said tonight. "We must have faster and stronger airships if we want to carry a regular passenger service."

"We have shown that the ship and motors are proof against any weather," he said. "Now we are about building a constructionally stronger airship."

Dr. Eckener, who consented to allow his trip only after he had tested through most of today, said that the weather had been better on the return trip than he had feared. His own good time of just a few minutes less than three days by air as much as fifteen hours.

"Never in my life did I have such luck as on this trip," the constructor said. "Going, I got into the worst weather imaginable, and on the return trip from Lakehurst we found such a string of unusual wind, weather, and other difficulties as to seem almost incredible."

The blond young stowaway, Clarence Turbine, received almost as much attention as did Dr. Eckener. The youth's act has captivated the German imagination and from the time of the dirigible's sighting there were cries for his appearance. The crowd manifested was disappointed when it was learned he had been spotted out the back door for a conference with the American Consul, John E. Kehl.

When he emerged from their sheltering crowds raised him to that are so numerous and so unexpected.

FLYERS FIND PAGAN INDIANS AMID BLOOD RITES IN ONTARIO

TORONTO (Ont.) Nov. 1. (Exclusive)—America's last band of pagan Indians, still practicing the blood rites of adult initiation, have been discovered at Pihangum Lake, near the Ontario-Manitoba boundary line, 300 miles north of the transcontinental railway.

Clifford Swartman, government aviator, and John O'Reilly, his mechanic, unwittingly scattered these naked savages scampering through the bush in early September this year when they flew to the shores of the lake to establish a gasoline cache for mining prospectors. They have just reported to the government.

Making gestures of friendship, Swartman coaxed first one and finally the whole band of about 20 more to come out from behind the shoulders and thereafter wherever he went he was the center of an admiring throng. Young Turbine was noncommittal as to his intentions, and said he must look through his mail before he could say what he intends doing.

"I'm not worried about the future, though," he said. "Passengers on the dirigible were unanimously enthusiastic over their voyage. The only woman aboard, Mrs. Clara Adams of Tannersville, Pa., asked to remain with us and announced that she was 'exhausted,' but the men, Hans Nolde of Reading, Pa.; Donald Caste of Columbus, O.; Paul Marko of Brooklyn, and Joseph Jemel of New York, said they had the time of their lives."

"We were so excited last night we stayed up and played cards as we traveled across France," one of them said.

OCEAN UNCONQUERED At a banquet tonight in honor of the crew of the Graf Zeppelin by the Zeppelin Corporation, Dr. Eckener declared, "We have not conquered the ocean yet."

Then, to prove his point, he recounted how on the flight from America he suddenly had seen below him a "wicked looking object" which he at first took for a fog formation. Then he decided it was a cloud, but was astonished a moment later to discover he was flying over the cliffs of Newfoundland.

"This, he said, despite having taken a course several hundred miles to the southeast.

The treacheries of ocean flying are so numerous and so unexpected.

PACT ADMITTED BY BURNED GIRL

Furnace Victim Refuses to Reveal Name

"Other One" Failed Her, She Tells Brother

Doctor Finds No Bruises on Patient's Body

LAKE BLUFF (Ill.) Nov. 1. (P)—Miss Editha Grace Knaak, whose mysterious burning is under investigation, had a pact with some one, whose name she did not disclose, she said tonight when talking to her brother, Alvin, as she lay in a hospital bed near death.

"We had a pact," she said, "but the other one did not go through with it. I went through with it alone." Later she added that she "didn't think the other girl would put it over on me."

OPINIONS AT VARIANCE Although authorities investigating the case, particularly the physicians, are beginning to accept the theory that Miss Knaak burned herself, Alvin and other relatives insist she was the victim of an assassin.

Miss Knaak was burned on her arms, legs and head in a furnace in the basement of the Lake Bluff City Hall, where she was living with her mother, said he is certain that someone was with her in the basement, "where she was found last Tuesday."

Examinations of her body, however, have disclosed no signs of physical violence.

Dr. C. Johnston David issued a statement tonight saying that a small bone in Miss Knaak's upper left arm is slightly cracked, indicating that she may have fallen.

"But there is not a bruise on her body," the statement concluded.

VIOLENT SUGHT A search was started today for Frank P. Mandy, Lake Bluff violin teacher, as a result of Miss Knaak's repeated mumbling that "Frank turned me down."

The violin teacher, who was a partner in a lottery business that took in more than $200,000 a year, surrendered to the police today. He was held in $10,000 bail after he waived a hearing.

At the same time fourteen policemen, asserted to have taken money to protect those engaged in the lottery, were placed under arrest and all were held in $2500 bail each after they also had waived hearing.

Testimony connecting the ward leader and the policemen with the lottery was given yesterday before Judge Lewis, who started the grand jury investigation on bootlegging, racketeering and police corruption.

The accused policemen were ordered to report at the District Attorney's office today. When they arrived the roll was called and then they marched to the office of the bail clerk of the criminal court, where bail had already been arranged for them by surety companies and relatives.

Officials Pay Respects at Lansing Bier

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (P)—Funeral services for Robert Lansing, former Secretary of State, who died here Tuesday, were conducted at the Lansing home today with many officials of the government and foreign diplomats present.

Brief services were read by Rev. Charles Wood and Rev. William A. Eisenberger of the Presbyterian Church of the covenant, of which Mr. Lansing was a trustee for thirty years. After the services the body was placed aboard a special car to be taken to Watertown (N. Y.) cemetery.

Secretary of State Kellogg, John W. Davis, Sir Rame Howard, Gen. Pershing, Secretary Whiting and Maj.-Gen. Lejeune were among the notables who attended the simple rites.

GERMAN STAR IS CHEVALIER LEAD

Laura LaPlante to Have Wesley Ruggles as Director; Fox Movie-tone Comedians Will Star in Two More; Louise Glaum Is in Stage Come-Back Here

There should be an interesting babel of tongues on the set at Paramount studios, where Maurice Chevalier takes up his professional life as a director, inasmuch as he is a Frenchman; Harry O'Neil, Frenchman and linguist, will be his director, and his leading lady, it is just announced, will be German.

The leading lady will be Dita Parlo, who is said to be German.

Edith Dillon in It

Edith Dillon, who used to direct comedies for the old Triangle organization, and who made that very excellent one, "Don Quixote," starring De Wolfe Hopper, is back in the acting harness again.

The director-general will play a comedy role in United Artists' "Broadway Melody." This will be a talker, and will give Dillon, who was on the stage for many years before going into pictures, a chance to exercise his stage voice.

Chicago Flyer Burns in Plane

RAVENS (Ill.) Nov. 1. (P)—Julian J. Farrell, Chicago, was burned to death today when his airplane crashed and burned.

Farrell, a licensed civilian pilot, was the son of John Farrell, Chicago real estate man. He was taking off for Chicago. The plane gained a little altitude when it caught fire, went into a nose dive and crashed.

TRACK-CLOSING PLEA NEARS SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1. (P)—Dr. Thomas Filben, executive secretary of the California Law Enforcement League, said today that an appeal will be made to Gov. Young to close the race track at Tanforan. Filben charged the track is flooded with dishonest gamblers.

LAURA LA PLANTE TO PLAY "HAUNTED LADY"

Just as soon as ever Laura LaPlante gets back from New York, to which place, as you have already been informed, she started on a flying trip—meaning a real aviation trip, not merely a hurried trip—last Wednesday, she will find herself confronted with "The Haunted Lady," Adela Rogers St. Johns story, recently purchased by Universal.

Miss LaPlante expects to do a little shopping in New York and see a few shows, after which she will fly home, which again is not a figurative term, but means that she will once more take an airship. She expects to be back in Hollywood in about ten days.

Wesley Ruggles has been assigned to direct the star in this picture. Miss LaPlante is to be supplied with a glorious wealth of leading men, numbering at least two and perhaps three.

Jan Keith will have one of these leading parts, and the remainder of the cast will be announced shortly.

Ruggles was given the directorial assignment because of his consistently good work in the making lately of several Universal pictures. This feature is to be one of the outstanding Universal films of the year.

Clark & McCullough's Next

Following their hit hit in the Fox Movie-tone comedy, "The Diplomats," under direction of Norman Taurog, Bobby Clark and Paul K. Cullough, those delightful vaudeville cut-ups, will start work immediately on another Movie-tone picture with Taurog directing. This would seem to be an excellent combination of stars and director.

The title of the new one will be "In Dutch," an original story by Paul Gerard Smith, with a locale of Holland and Switzerland.

Following this one, Clark will be featured in "The Ring," another original story by Harry Sweet, while gag man and comedian.

Louise Glaum at Egan

Our old friend, Louise Glaum, is coming back to us. But not on the screen. At least not for the present.

She will do better by us than that. She will appear in person as Michael Kaseller's play, "Trial Marriage," which is to be produced at the Egan Theatre, opening on the 12th inst. The play discusses, as its title implies, the much talked-about subject of companionate marriage. Phil Whiting is directing the rehearsals.

The star has not been in Los Angeles in more than three years. In the interim she has been playing the big-time vaudeville of the East.

Miss Glaum is accompanied by her husband and business manager, Jack Z. Harris, and the pair are taking an apartment here. "I am so happy to be back in California, which will always seem home to me," said Miss Glaum yesterday, "although I have been enjoying stage work in the East immensely."

Asked whether she would do any picture work here, Miss Glaum said she hadn't thought of it, but

LUCK OF IRISH FAILS PRINCE

Shamrock Presented to Wales As He Enters Race in Which He Loses

LONDON, Nov. 1. (AP)—A dispatch to the Daily Express from El Dorado, Kenya Colony, Africa, today said that the colors of the Irish Free State failed to bring luck to the Prince of Wales in a horse race there.

The colors were presented to the Prince by tiny Sheila O'Shea, daughter of Thomas O'Shea, who was a leading Sinn Féin in Ireland in 1913. She also gave him a shamrock.

The Prince stooped and kissed her and then rode to the post. He made a bad start and did not place at the finish.

The Prince, however, made amends for losing this race by winning the next two.

DALLAS (Tex.) Nov. 1. (AP)—Seven Texans who occupied prominent positions with Herbert Hoover during the war, today issued a statement commending the Republican Presidential candidate for his character and ability.

Haines of Amarillo, in charge of distribution in Russia, Armenia and the Balkans; Robert Mavrick of San Antonio, Hoover aide in Belgium and France; Harwood Smith of Austin, supervisor of distribution in Belgium; Capt. The gigantic enterprises in Belgium in the interest of human welfare required the highest type of organization and administrative ability, the statement said. "They were operated at a minimum cost without question of accuracy and the efficiency and rapidity of organization was the admiration of European countries."

ELWOOD DATA ANTICIPATED

Matthew Brush and Party Scheduled to Arrive About Time of Well Completions

BY EARLE E. CROWE

By next week it is expected that accurate data on the potential value of the Elwood field, the sensational discovery of the Rio Grande and the Barnardall companies will be known. Three of the wells are scheduled for completion by that time, and their performance will go a long way toward determining the value of the acreage which has been touted as the "wonder field" of the American petroleum industry.

About the same time, Matthew C. Brush, chairman of the Barnardall Corporation, is expected to arrive in Los Angeles with a party of eastern bankers. Brush's visit, so the gossip runs on Spring street, will have an important bearing on stock market affairs of Rio Grande and Barnardall, provided the three wells live up to the forecasts of the geologists.

NAVY REFORMS AIRPLANE UNIT

Observation Wing Formed in Distinct Group

Final Transfer of Flyers Told by Department

Commander and Squadron Leaders Named

Reorganization of the observation wing of the aircraft squadrons of the battle fleet into a self-contained, highly efficient unit of thirty-seven planes operating directly from the decks of the battleships themselves, is fast being carried out.

The step marks the final move to attain complete co-ordination between aircraft squadrons and surface forces of the fleet, whereby the observation wing, as well as those fighting, bombing, torpedo and scouting squadrons based on the carriers Saratoga and Lexington, will be able to keep the sea with the fleet under all conditions.

Therefore, the battle fleet observation wing, heretofore composed of five heterogeneous squadrons, will hereafter be formed of the thirty-seven new "C" Corsair planes, making up only three squadrons, one squadron of twelve planes each being attached to each of the three battleship divisions.

There will be an additional plane assigned to the flagship California for use of the commanding officer.

The observation wing will be commanded by Lieutenant-Commander C. T. Durbin, also leader of Squadron "Five," while his subordinate will be Lieutenant J. O. Farrell, commanding Squadron Three, and Lieutenant-Commander D. R. Duncan, commanding Squadron Four.

Fleet aviators affected by the new orders yesterday include: Lieut. Wilton P. Rogers, to Squadron Three; Lieut. Raymond J. Farnsworth, to Squadron Five; Lieut. Elder P. Johnson, to U.S.S. Lexington; Lieut. Paul R. Thompson, to Squadron Three; Lieut. John F. Wegforth, to Squadron Five; Lieut. Howell A. West, to Squadron Three; Lieut. James Baker, to Squadron Three; Lieut. Joseph L. Kane, to Squadron Three, and Lieut. Walter V. R. Vieweg, to Squadron Three.

JUDGE REBUKES POLICE OFFICER

Pair Who Broke Down Doors Must Pay $965

Entrusted Wife Sought to Get Her Children

Parents of Husband Sue for $25,000 Damages

A police officer has no right to better down doors of a home and enter without a warrant even though he is helping an estranged wife get possession of her children, according to a ruling handed down yesterday by Superior Judge Tappan when he awarded a judgment of $965 against Harry J. Johnson, Los Angeles policeman, and Hortense Stearns, wife of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Stearns.

Not only did Judge Tappan rule against the police officer but he also severely reprimanded him for overstepping his authority. He said:

"There probably is no better established principle in the law than that a man's home is his castle, and the breaking of that is a civil and a criminal wrong. The exercise of undue authority by a police officer is not only a misdemeanor, but it is a felony. The acts of the defendant Johnson are not the acts of one having any authority. He undoubtedly thought he was acting within the province of his duty, nevertheless they were wrong."

Stearns and his wife Lucretia brought suit against the policeman and Mrs. Hortense Stearns, wife of Francis Stearns, son of the plaintiff. A divorce action between the son and his wife is pending. Recently, the children of the couple were placed with the grandparents by their father.

The plaintiff asserted that the children's mother, accompanied by the officer, came to their home and that the police officer broke down the doors and with the help of Mrs. Hortense Stearns took the children away. The elder Mrs. Stearns, it was asserted, received several blows on the head, face and arms while the children were being taken. She gave her home address as 1448 West Fifty-fifth street.

COUPLE SEIZED ON CHARGES OF LIQUOR SELLING

A report from Mayor Croy that bootlegging was being carried on at 808 Park View street brought James Patchell, apartment-house owner, and Mrs. Helen Davis into Municipal Judge Ballard's court yesterday following their arrest by vice-squad officers under Detective Lieutenant Ross.

Following a liquor purchase which the officers charge they made from Mrs. Davis, assorted liquors valued at several hundred dollars were seized, they reported. Court records of Detective Charles Caldwell show that Patchell has four previous liquor convictions against him and Mrs. Davis has two.

Both defendants pleaded not guilty and their jury trials were set for the 20th inst. by Judge Ballard. Bail was fixed at $1700 for Mrs. Davis and $1000 for Patchell.

MYSTERY HELD BY LONE HAND

Gloved Remnant of Human Body Found in Sands of Dead Man's Island

A gloved human hand, which had been severed from its wrist, was discovered in the sand being dredged from what was known as Dead Man's Island, Los Angeles Harbor, yesterday, by workmen of the San Francisco Dredge Company. The hand was that of a man, apparently, and it is believed it came from one of the skeletons exhumed some months ago near by, when the dredging operations commenced.

Couple Seized on Charges of Liquor Selling

A report from Mayor Croy that bootlegging was being carried on at 808 Park View street brought James Patchell, apartment-house owner, and Mrs. Helen Davis into Municipal Judge Ballard's court yesterday following their arrest by vice-squad officers under Detective Lieutenant Ross.

Following a liquor purchase which the officers charge they made from Mrs. Davis, assorted liquors valued at several hundred dollars were seized, they reported. Court records of Detective Charles Caldwell show that Patchell has four previous liquor convictions against him and Mrs. Davis has two.

Both defendants pleaded not guilty and their jury trials were set for the 20th inst. by Judge Ballard. Bail was fixed at $1700 for Mrs. Davis and $1000 for Patchell.

NEW STUDIO OF TALKING FILM OPENS

Christie Stages Will be Used, by Producers of Several Units

Talking picture production started yesterday at the new $500,000 talking picture plant built at Metropolitan studios by the Christie Brothers, this being the third of the new sound studios to be equipped and put into operation by Western Electric technicians, closely following the installations at Paramount and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Construction of Metropolitan's plant was started by the Austin Company of California only two weeks ago. Yesterday the studio was put into operation for the making of both film and disc recordings. The new plant will be talking picture headquarters of several large producing companies besides the Christie unit. The improvement adds over $500,000 to a $1,000,000 studio which is the largest of the independently operated studios.

The new talking picture studios include two large stages, two projection rooms, two monitor rooms for the electrical director, new cutting rooms and a large central building which houses amplifying rooms, recording rooms for the sound pictures on either film or wax disc and experimental and research laboratory. Outstanding features are the absolute soundproofing of the stages and an elaborate heating and ventilating system.

The talking pictures started yesterday with Leslie Peaves directing. Douglas McLean and Lorraine Eddy acting and Harold Lloyd throwing the switch which started the recording. The plant, which is owned and operated by Al and Charles Christie, will be under the general management of Phil H. Ryan with three highly trained technical crews under direction of H. W. Bergman.

STAGE IDEA PRODUCERS TO ORGANIZE

Los Angeles Will Become Production Center for Fanchon and Marco

West Coast Theaters and Fanchon and Marco will, within the next few days, file at Sacramento to incorporate a new production company, the Fanchon and Marco Productions, a California company capitalized at $100,000.

The officers will be Harold B. Franklin, president; Marco Wolf, vice-president and general manager; and M. D. Howe, secretary. The company is being organized through this incorporation, act, by becoming a national theater producing center, competing with New York. Los Angeles is a big step forward for Fanchon and Marco because of the talent available.

The new company will produce, direct and stage on four the Fanchon and Marco "Ideas" that are an important part of the program at Loew's State Theater. At the present time these acts are sent from Los Angeles south to San Diego and then north to Vancouver, east to Salt Lake City, where the company disbanded and the players return to Los Angeles to enter new units. With the new company functioning the route will become national. Studios and general offices will be erected near the office of West Coast Theaters at Washington and Vermont.

Fanchon and Marco originally started with West Coast Theaters when the latter Theater in San Francisco, in October of 1922. The "Ideas" now employ between 350 and 450 dancing girls, 100 principal players, together with carpenters, electricians, costume designers, scenic artists, musicians, totaling another 500. With the formation of the new company and new units added each week until the present total of eighteen is augmented to sixty-five Fanchon and Marco expect to employ more than 2000 artists, musicians and mechanics.

The present plans call for the new acts to start east shortly after the first of the year with a possibility of the Fanchon and Marco "Ideas" being sent abroad to supply the stage talent for a continental circuit of theaters.

Coroner's Jury Fixes No Blame in 'Tank' Death

No blame was placed yesterday for the death on Wednesday of Alden Bernie, known also as Bernie Adair, who died from skull fracture after having been placed in the drunk tank at the Central Police Station two days previously. The Coroner's jury sitting on the case yesterday brought in an open verdict in view of the fact that the man had suffered several falls before having been taken to the station in an intoxicated condition.

The jury did recommend, however, that a hospital interne accompany the ambulance on all calls of an emergency nature. Police have also asked that an interne be placed at the station in order to make disposition of cases of this sort. When jailed Adair did not show any symptoms which, to a layman, would indicate injury. Bernie's name first was listed as Bernie Adair, but detectives of the homicide detail discovered from his naturalization papers that he came from Ireland and that his real name was Alden Bernie.

Mrs. A. Delrich of 1141 West Eighty-seventh street informed police that the man had been put out of her boarding-house about ten days before as the result of his addiction to drink.

possibility of misunderstanding America and Americans. Mr. George Armstrong pointed out the fact that the last 100 years have seen the spread of the English language to the four corners of the earth until it is at present dominant throughout the world. Mr. Collins stressed the importance of teaching the youth of the British and American nations to really "speak English." He advocated a more thorough study of the poets and declared that England and the United States have a common heritage in the works of the better English and American authors.

LAND CALLED WONDERFUL

He paid a tribute to the United States when he declared that day by day and step by step the visiting journalists were learning how wonderful this America is. How much more wonderful than our most conservative thinking had conceived. Everywhere we find Americans striving to make money and everywhere we find them spending money wisely and generously for education and advancement.

Yesterday, the first day for the British visitors in Los Angeles, was a busy one, at the end of which they had become full-fledged performers before the motion-picture cameras and completely impervious to the battery of clicking cameras that clicked merrily at virtually every step they made.

In the morning the journalists were welcomed to the city on behalf of the citizens of Los Angeles by Mayor Croy, who assured them that the welcome came from the heart and was not a matter of form.

MEET NOTED SCIENTIST

From the City Hall the journalists were taken to the California Institute of Technology, where they met Dr. Robert A. Millikan, head of the institute, and inspected the various laboratories where experiments had been conducted the world have been made.

At noon the visitors were the guests of Dr. John Willis Barr at a luncheon at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, along with Southern California publishers and prominent residents of the Owens City. The British journalists appeared to be highly pleased by the atmosphere of informality which surrounded the luncheon and the introduction remarks at the close of the luncheon, when he said he would not talk shop but would content himself with extending them a sincere welcome to Pasadena.

INFORMALITY & LEASERS

John Stephen McGroarty brought shouts of "hear, hear," and considerable applause from the visitors at the close of a short talk, in which he outlined the historic background of California, when he told of how a trip to the British Isles had wiped out a time-worn prejudice which he had nursed against the English.

Sir Charles Ighledeen of the Kentish Express in a brief response said he was charmed with the informality of the reception and that every member of the party was sincerely grateful for the warm welcome that had been extended them in every city from New York to the Pacific Coast.

The visitors were frankly enthusiastic over their trip through the Huntington Library, where they viewed many of the art treasures that had formerly been in their own country. As one of the party expressed it: "Here we find that the dollar-chasing America has turned the tables on us and has caused our own art lovers to trade their art treasures for American dollars."

From the Huntington Library the journalists were taken under police escort, with sirens wide open, on a fast ride to the United Artists studio in Hollywood, where they met Joseph Schenck and many of the film stars, including Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Gloria Swanson, Charles Chaplin, John Barrymore, Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky. Among the directors and other film luminaries who were also present were D. W. Griffith, Ernst Lubitsch, John W. Considine, Jr., Samuel Goldwyn, Edwin Carewe and Alan Crossland.

NEW HOME OF REALTY MEN OPENS

Los Angeles Board Will
Also Observe Anniversary
With Celebration Today

Culminating an ambition of several years the Los Angeles Realty Board today is formally opening to the public its new home at 1127 South Grand avenue.

Although the idea of a home to be owned and occupied by the organization was considered for some time, the first definite step was taken September, last, when a month's campaign was carried on, and a fund of $150,000 raised for the purchase of a site and the erection of a building.

Today the board is holding an all-day house warming to which the public is invited, celebrating the completion of its home, and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the organization.

A Spanish orchestra and singers have been engaged for the entertainment of the board's guests today, among whom will be Hal G. Hotchkiss, president of the California Real Estate Association, and other officers of the State body. Past presidents of the board are acting as a reception committee.

LUCKENBACH RITES TO BE TOMORROW

Widow of Business Man
Died Wednesday Night at
Family Home

Following an illness of several months Lena Berner Luckenbach, widow of John Luckenbach, died late Wednesday night at the family home on North Vermont avenue.

Mrs. Luckenbach came here with her husband in 1900. At the time of the husband's death he had many important business interests and was identified with the development of the North Vermont and Los Feliz districts.

She made his widow and executrix of a large estate. His will, however, was contested by eastern relatives. In May, 1927, the Probate Court found in favor of the widow, who continued to administer the affairs of the estate.

There were no children of the marriage, but Mrs. Luckenbach leaves four sisters, Mrs. August Lantz of Long Beach, Mrs. L. M. Lantz of San Bernardino, Mrs. L. M. Lantz of San Bernardino, and Mrs. Otto Lantz of Marinette, Wis.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at Forest Lawn cemetery. The pallbearers are Charles J. Lyons, Floyd W. Crane, Carl E. Burns, Adolph E. Holmstead, Harry P. Phillips, Harry C. Welton, Ray C. Halpin and Andrew Abbott.

SITE BONDS INDORSED BY UNION LABOR

County Group Advises Its
Approval of Issue to Aid
New State Building

The Los Angeles Central Labor Council at a recent meeting passed a resolution favoring the county bond issue for $1,000,000 for the purchase of a site for the State building, realizing that the present State offices are now located in widely scattered buildings inconvenient to the public; that the increasing rentals for these quarters are not economically sound business; that the State should have a building where all its business is transacted; that there is now available $1,250,000 for the construction of the building, and that a suitable site should be provided.

In a letter to the State building committee of Los Angeles county, J. W. Russell, secretary of the council, says:

"I am taking this opportunity to especially advise you that in considering the proposed county bond issue of $1,000,000 for the purpose of purchasing a site for a State building in Los Angeles, the organized labor movement of Los Angeles and vicinity has unanimously voted to approve and endorse that issue, and we shall be very glad to do all in our power to present this matter to the public and to urge upon them to vote for these bonds."

FUND APPROPRIATED

The sum of $1000 was appropriated yesterday by the Playground Commission to cover cost for engineering services and inspection in the reconstruction of the storm drain to be reconstructed by the Board of Public Works at Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets, San Pedro. The work, according to Superintendent Hjelte, is necessary to protect the sands of Carillo Beach from storm waters.

The Realty Board, letter stated it had conferred with County Counsel Mattoon, the author of the act, and that it is believed the proposed amendments will be beneficial. Mr. Mattoon declared he also favors legislation to prevent the act being from abused in its application in certain communities.

After a brief questioning Yorton admitted the robbery, Speck stated. He asserted partner, Grant L. Mitchell, 24, was also arrested on suspicion of robbery. Yorton, Speck reported, was a former employee at Bell's barbecue stand.

Miss Murray, actress, was another court fight yesterday when she was given judgment over Mrs. Jeanette Donovan, mother of Jack Donovan, Hollywood architect, for $77, which Mrs. Donovan asserted was due her for a screen and dressing table made for the house which Donovan sold to Miss Murray.

Municipal Judge Grimes, presiding over the Small Claims Court, held the bill was included in the $25,000 judgment which Miss Murray recently won in Superior Court from Donovan.

Another suit filed by Donovan against the actress, in which by charges she failed to pay for a dog which she purchased from him, will be heard before Judge Grimes Monday, next.

Weary father: All right. Pick out some nice one you'll like and I'll buy it for you.

Gladys: I should say she was. You ought to see the evening dress she made out of her last summer's bathing-suit.

Alice: She doesn't know yet. She's going to that famous Vienna psychiatrist to find out.

LOWE ROBBERY CASE FINISHED

Jury Will Retire Today to Ponder Evidence

Defendant on Stand Denies Part in Robbery

Woman's Altered Partner to be Tried Next

The case of Mrs. Ollie Lowe, accused "society bandit," who is charged with robbery in connection with the "bridge party" robbery in April, 1932, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Cummings, is scheduled to go to a jury today in Judge Aggeler's court. Arguments were completed yesterday, and the jury will retire this morning to consider the case.

Mrs. Lowe is charged with having conspired with William Schaffer, known as the "Iron Duke," and Evan R. Sikes to rob the women guests at Mrs. Cummings' party. The state asserts that Mrs. Lowe, a guest at the bridge party, played the role of a victim of the bandits who held up the guests, but that she was in reality in league with the robbers.

Mrs. Lowe took the stand in her own defense and admitted being robbed with the other women present, but denied the knowledge of the abduction or had anything to do with the hold-up.

Immediately after Mrs. Lowe's case is submitted to the jury today, Dep. Dist. Atty. Mendez and Crall will begin the prosecution of Sikes, who originally was a co-defendant of Mrs. Lowe. Schaffer, who appeared as a state witness in the present trial, is under sentence to Federal penitentiary. It is expected he also will appear as a witness in the future case.

"I see Chicago is planning to have a crime museum," said Mendez. "Great thing, if all the exhibits can be permanently housed."

Forewarned Social worker: I won't take but a minute of your time. What you wish to do is establish rest periods in all business houses.

Boss: Sorry, but the help has been too to it.—(Allison Recorder.)

Virginia Hurst Discharged by Appeals Court

Mrs. Virginia Hurst, sometimes called "Lady Diana Bathurst," yesterday was ordered discharged from custody by an Appellate Court decision. The ruling pertains to a sentence of 180 days in jail, 150 of which were suspended, on a petty theft charge. Mrs. Hurst has been out on bail for several weeks pending the Appellate Court decision.

The order for her discharge grew out of a tangled chain of events in the Municipal Court following her conviction on July 8, last. These events, according to the Appellate Court decision, were as follows: Justice Thompson, in the filing of an appeal and a motion for a new trial, charged that Mrs. Hurst had been out on bail when $1000 bond was posted and her release on bail obtained.

Subsequently, according to the decision, the new trial was granted and a hearing date set. When the case came up for hearing the order for a new trial was set aside and Mrs. Hurst ordered committed.

The Appellate Court ruled that the Municipal Court was without authority to make any orders whatsoever after judgment was passed inasmuch as it lost jurisdiction when the notice of appeal was given. Incarceration of Mrs. Hurst under any of the orders made by the Municipal Court after the notice of appeal would be illegal because the Superior Court, to which the appeal was directed, now have exclusive jurisdiction of the case, Justice Thompson ruled.

AIR COMPANY UPHELD IN ACCOUNTING SUIT

If Robert Morton wishes to prove his suit against the directors of the Western Air Express for an accounting, he will have to file an amended complaint, Judge McCune in Superior Court yesterday pronounced a decision in the original complaint, because the defendants were able to show that the causes of action were improperly joined. Morton was given ten days in which to amend his complaint. He asserts in that document that the company had earned $750,000 on a capital investment of $215,000 in three years, but has distributed no dividends. He owns five shares of stock in the company.

Auto Accident Fatal to Child in Hawthorne

Patrick Franklin, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray O. Franklin of 376 York street, Hawthorne, was killed instantly yesterday when she ran out into the street in the path of an automobile driven by Mrs. George Spence, 4777 Willow street, Van Nuys, in front of the Franklin home.

According to the story told police by Mrs. Spence she put on her brakes in an effort to avoid the accident but the sudden appearance of the child almost directly in front of the car made it impossible. The car skidded and struck the child sideways. The body of the youngster was taken to the J. B. Dumway Undertaking Parlor pending an inquest set for Saturday. Mrs. Spence was released pending the inquest.

The father of the dead child is cashier of the State Bank of Hawthorne. Mrs. Spence is a sister of the wife of Councilman Smith of Beverly Hills. Her sister was with Mrs. Spence at the time of the accident.
